

Kubota and the Global Environment

Providing Environmentally Friendly Technology and Products

In our quest for Toward Environment-Friendly Corporate Activities, Kubota is working to create a society where sustainable development is possible on a global scale, and to make an active contribution to environmental conservation and improvement. As part of this drive, we provide the world with technology and products that are environmentally friendly and that fit in with our ideal of global conservation.

